BIG BASIN FIRE OUT OF CONTROL

C. of C. Directors Hold Session in Hill Home; Police O.K.'d

At a business meeting of the directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce last Monday night, many of the subjects causing concern to the membership at large were discussed and appropriate action taken.

The police committee, composed of Ed Hubert, Frank Accardi, Robert Drexel, Forrest Reese and Karl Bohnett reported the findings of their study of the past few weeks to the Board. They recommended the continuance, as night patrolman, of John Clemens, who has had the patrol job the past two months. Clemens, according to the recommendation of the committee is to be responsible to the chamber police committee. He is authorized to collect from a minimum of $3 to a maximum of $10 from business houses desiring his services. No compulsion is exerted towards requiring business places to utilize the services of the patrolman, but it was pointed out that for efficient police protection the more subscribers to the service, the better it would be for all concerned. Suggestions or complaints on the police service should be directed to the committee of which Mr. Bohnett is chairman.

Also appearing at the meeting was Howard Duncan and Wilbur Mitchell. They appealed to the Chamber for support of the proposed airport west of town on the Mitchell ranch property. The County Planning Board had previously given the green light to the project, but protests have since arisen from certain Los Gatos area residents. Action on indorsement was tabled pending consultation with officials of the Saratoga and Los Gatos Chambers of Commerce.

New membership fees were recommended and passed upon. The rates are now to be $5 for individuals, $10 for business firms and $50 for an industrial classification.

Other business passed upon was the authorization for the secretary to draft a letter to Robert Chandler, county commissioner of roads, requesting the re-surfacing of Campbell avenue from a point near the railroad tracks to the Winchester corner.

Regular meetings are now being held on the third Wednesday night of each month at 8 o'clock in Country Womans Club, corner of First and Campbell avenue. These are not dinner meetings, as were previously held, but light refreshments will probably be served.

New Air Mail Parcel Post Inaugurated

With the inauguration of nationwide-worldwide air parcel post September 1, the United States can boast of the most modern and expeditious delivery service in the world, according to Postmaster Ira Grim of Campbell.

The new highly specialized airborne service, enacted into law by the 80th Congress, will afford patrons of more than 42,000 post offices in America and its possessions unexcelled shipping facilities. Transit time will be reduced to a fraction of that required by other modes of transportation.

Postmaster Grim pointed out that air parcel post packages will receive the same particular consideration shown air mail in routing. In addition, identical doorstep delivery will be given to air parcel post as is afforded other forms of mail, making the airborne mail service unique in every respect.

He added that distinct air parcel post stickers, printed in red, white

New Establishments Open Doors To Brighten Campbell Business Outlook

No less than 17 new business firms have entered the commercial sphere of the town in the past few weeks. Twelve new firms alone now occupy the Shopping Court at 211 to 225 East Campbell avenue. The location almost parallels a department store in scope. One may purchase everything from a Venetian blind to a cup of coffee at the new establishment. The plan of the enterprise is strictly Californian. Good taste has been shown in the lay-out of the individual stores, and the landscaping and architecture, while plain and utilitarian, shows an abundance of planning and thought. The location is eminently strategic. It is practically in the center of the town, and parking presents no problem. Ample parking places are usually found on First street, only a few hundred feet away from the business places in the arcade type structure.

Farther down Campbell avenue, just below the railroad tracks, a handsome new building was recently completed, housing three distinctive business firms. This building, constructed by the Ainsley Corporation, was started nearly a year ago, but only partially completed. That is, one section was finished along about last Christmas, and the tenants opened a grocery store. Later on the other half of the building was finished and today houses a new furniture store and next to this a paint and

It's To Be 'Men's Night' at the Blood Bank As Industry, Business Men Join Forces

Men's Night at the Blood Bank is set for Sept. 22 in Campbell.

It's a new kind of men's night and part of the fairly-new proceedure that's saving lives of men, women and children from a long list of death-dealing sicknesses.

Men in industries from Permanente on the west to the Meridian road at the east, are being asked by the Campbell committee of the Red Cross Blood Bank to give a pint of blood a piece to build up reserves for hospitals in the county.

Hours—from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.—are set for the convenience of the greatest number of workers.

First Methodist church of Campbell will be used as a donor center, as it has in past visits of the mobile unit of the blood bank.

Co-operation of Campbell Kiwanis Club and Campbell Volunteer Fire Department is already assured. Other service clubs, business men and industrial plants, including the canneries and dehydrator will be invited this week by Mrs. Merle Gardner, general chairman of blood bank activities here.

All types of blood are needed in the bank—which furnishes blood free to anyone in need of it.

Donations from Campbell residents are credited to Campbell patients whose condition requires transfusion.

But actually, Campbell has had to "borrow" from neighboring

Col. J. L. McBride's Book Borrows Setting From Alaskan Wilds Where He Served

Colonel James Lloyd McBride's new book "The Smoky Valley Claim" will be published Nov. 26, Caxton Printers announced this week.

Alaska, where McBride spent some 20 years as a missionary and Army chaplain, is the setting for the novel, and adventure book for boys in sequel to "The Golden Glacier."

Since his retirement, the author has lived on South Winchester road in Campbell. He is active in civic affairs and popular as a guest speaker. During the war he served as chaplain under General Simon Bolivar Buckner, famous American officer who was beloved by all his men for his stern but fair treatment.

McBride began his missionary career in Alaska in 1913 and his description of the colorful country and people are from first-hand experience.

The new book will be 250 pages in length, with 35 black and white illustrations and one full color plate by E. Joseph Dreany. His publishers say of it:

Seeing Double, or "An Egg Is an Egg Is an Egg Is an Egg"

(Apologies to the Late G. S.)

Never in a lifetime of farming and raising chickens, has John Ransford of 23 Pecan Way been as surprised as he was Wednesday. Of the thousands upon thousands of eggs the family have gathered from their nests throughout the years the curiosa of the hen and egg family came to light at the preparation of breakfast yesterday. An outsize egg, measuring a full three inches long was cracked for use. And what came out of the egg? The usual double yolk was expected from so large an egg, but no! Out dropped another full size and highly satisfactory looking egg. Mr. Ransford was golderned and be-switched. Never in his 71 years had he seen the likes of it. "But," he mused, "things seem to grow big and unusual around this part of the Santa Clara Valley."

Camp Site in New Peril as Fire Burns Over 25,000 Acres and Still Raging

Big Basin Park site looked doomed this afternoon as weary fire crews reported the Pine Mountain blaze out of control and gaining rapidly against their efforts.

Two thousand campers—among them, several Campbell families—were allowed to return to Big Basin Park late Wednesday to recover their personal belongings.

Five hundred men are battling the 25,000 acre blaze from Pine Mountain to the coast. Fifty per cent of the fire was reported under control at 10:30 this morning, and firemen hoped to confine the flames between Waddell and Scott creeks. At 2 p.m. they abandoned their positions at Carpenters Mill and reported changing winds had swept the flames beyond reach.

Wind gusts were pushing the fire toward the coast today, leaving at least 10,000 acres of red-

BULLETIN

The Big Basin forest fire was said to be completely out of control at noon today, according to Lester Gum of the State Forestry Division. Fresh winds had fanned the blaze anew. Flames had jumped Mill Creek and the fire is raging south and east towards the coast. He said it was the worst fire in this part of California in 12 years. One thousand more acres of virgin timber has been burned since early this morning.

Hunters Get Lion In Monterey Hills

They didn't see a deer on their hunting trip, but Clifford Thule and two companions shot an 80-pound mountain lion Saturday and earned $110 in bounties.

They were riding single file up a mountain trail out of Greenfield, in Monterey county, when their horses shied at the lion, crouched on an overhanging rock some 60 feet ahead of them. It took seven shots to kill the marauder, thought, to be the same lion for which cattle ranchers have been gunning since early summer.

New Designs for Girl Scout Dress

Girl Scouts will soon be wearing a new type of uniform, representing the first change in uniform design for the past 20 years.

Designed by Mainbocher, the new outfits will be of a brighter green color than the traditional Girl Scout uniforms of yore, Mrs. Ralph W. Johnson, area commissioner, said.

The new dresses, she said, combine functional practicality with precise tailoring and attractive appearance. There are three one-piece dresses: One for Intoermediate Scouts of 10 to 14; one for Senior Scouts and one for adults.

All have flared skirts, allowing for freedom of movement desired in Scout activities. They are of moified shirtwaist design, with roomy armholes, action backs and button-down lapels.

The new outfits will be available soon. Mrs. Johnson assured parents, however, that the old uniforms will continue to ze used.

"Every uniform which has been adopted in the history of Girl Scouting remains official until it wears out," she said.

The traditional green uniform was adopted in 1928, replacing a khaki-colored design.

Bar To Study Court Machinery At Convention

California lawyers will act on several legislative proposals affecting court machinery, judges' retirements, and other changes in the law at the conference of State Bar Delegates during the first two days of the State Bar Convention at Santa Barbara, September 14-18.

Believing that impeachment proceedings of "incompetent judicial officers have not proved to be adequate," the State Bar Committee on the Administration of Justice has approved in principle creation of a Court of the Judiciary in addition to existing machinery. Such a court could be established only by constitutional amendment or revision.

The Court of the Judiciary, now operating in New York State, provides machinery to remove judges for incompetency or other grounds upon concurrence of four members of the court. The court there is composed of the Chief Justice and the senior associate justice of the court of appeals, and one justice from each appellate division designated by a majority of the justices in them.

The Committee has also approved a constitutional amendment to provide for compulsory retirement of judges at age 75, and voluntary retirement at lesser age for periods to be fixed by the Legislature.

Summary Shows 17,367 Patients Examined in X-Ray Program This Year

Fifty-five board and committee members of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association met last Tuesday night, Aug. 24, at a barbecue dinner at La Rinconada Golf Club near Los Gatos. Dr. C. Gerald Scarborough, president, presided.

A summary of X-raying program since January of this year was presented as follows:

5160 patients admitted to the County Hospital have been x-rayed with 3 per cent showing x-ray evidence of suspicious tuberculosis. The x-raying of all hospital and out-patient clinic admissions to the hospital is part of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association's tuberculosis case-finding program. Association lends its second x-ray unit for this program.

It was further reported that the Newell H. Bullock Memorial X-ray unit has x-rayed to date this year 12,207 persons throughout the entire county in a total of 81 surveys which included 17 school surveys, five industrial groups, 16 special group and district surveys, and 43 regular visits to outlying towns. In this 12,207 x-rayed only one per cent showed x-ray evidence of suspicious tuberculosis, it was stated.

Plans for extensive fall x-raying programs include entering students at San Jose State College and a five-day survey of residents in the Gilroy area including certain industries.

CCC Purchase Ups Apricot Price

Frank J. Polak, apricot chairman and State Section vice-chairman, commented that the announced policy of the United States Department of Agriculture to authorize the Commodity Credit Corporation to purchase up to 6,000 tons of dried cots has had a boosting effect on the industry.

"Packer offers for good lots of apricots have been raised from 20 cents several days ago, to 23 cents after the government release. Those offers are still miserably short of production costs, though sounding a note of optimism," Polak observed.

Production costs of ripe apricots, based on the average state production of four tons per acre, were figured at $92.41 per ton, picked, ready to can or dry. Drying costs have been from $30 to $32.50 this year and it takes from 5½ to 6 tons of fresh fruit to make one dry ton.

Dry apricots this year are a paler color. Grader sizes are, on the average, a "point" lower. This was due to cool weather and subsequent lack of sugar in the fruit.

The California State Park areas fall into three main groups: Scenic reserves, recreational parks, and historic monuments.

Memorial Windows Repaired This Week

During the past weeks the art glass windows in the Methodist Church have been renovated and repaired. The leaded sections were reinforced and additional metal supports were inserted in some places. The windows dedicated to James and Pamlar Dorety, to Rev. John W. and Nettie A. Lewis, to William H. and Laura Swope were all reconditioned. The memorial window to Benjamin Campbell was the last to be returned to its place over the choir loft. The memorial windows to Rev. Beatty, and to Rev. Hopkins were not in need of repair. The work on these art glass windows greatly improves the worship atmosphere of the church.

Church Music To Honor Composer

Next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service of the Methodist Church, Rev. L. J. Osborne will sing, "The Lord Is My Light," by Oley Speaks. This sacred solo has been selected as a remembrance of the great contribution to church music made by Oley Speaks, the composer who died last week.

In the worship service the pastor will preach on the subject, "The Kingdom of God in a Secular World."

Poultrymen Meet in Live Oak School

J. W. Knowles, County Farm Bureau Poultry chairman, announced that a poultrymen's meeting will be held in the Live Oak Union High School, Monterey Highway and Central avenue, Morgan Hill, September 3, 1948, at 8 p.m.

William Newlin, poultry specialist, University of California Agricultural Extension Service, will address the group and discuss the various phases of this industry.

Poultrymen have pointed out the need for a full time poultry specialist working as an advisor from the county office of the agriculture extension service.

The prevalence of diseases makes it necessary to have a laboratory within easy travelling distance for quick diagnosis and less risk of contagion through transportation.

More widespread information among producers and sanitary requirements for buyers of live poultry were other needs expressed, and will be discussed at this meeting.

Also, the possibilities of establishing a live poultry auction or other type of market will be explored. This phase of the poultrymen's wishes will be fully explained by W. V. Heiss, poultry specialist of C.F.B.F.

Of more than 40,000 naval officers now on active duty, more than 13,000 or approximately 30 per cent, are qualified as naval aviators.

Jack Anderson Names West Point Appointees

Congressman Jack Z. Anderson recently announced names of nine youths who have been appointed from the Eighth Congressional District to study at the United States Military Academy at West Point or the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The appointments are made through Anderson every two years. A merit system dependent upon passage of both an intelligence and physical examination is the basis for making the appointments, Anderson said.

Those appointed to Annapolis are:

Gerald Robert Bassett, 1256 Laurel avenue, East Palo Alto; Sheridan Sweigert, 1181 Forest avenue, Palo Alto; John R. Stewart, 311 Portola avenue, Palo Alto; and William Miller Laughton, 1617 Floribunda avenue, Hillsborough.

Those appointed to West Point are:

William E. Armstrong, 2020 Cowper street, Palo Alto; Joseph M. O'Neill, 218 29th avenue, San Mateo; Emanuel T. Argorastoso, 925 Palmona avenue, Burlingame; Lawrence Foss, 1 Sandhill Road, Menlo Park; and Richard M. Wilson, 1257 East Cliff Drive, Santa Cruz.

Marotz at Navy Air Corps Base

Cpl. Robert W. Marotz, USNCR, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Marotz of 676 Downing avenue, Campbell, participated in the second annual mobilization of the organized Marine Air Reserves at the Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif. Three ground control intercept squadrons and 12 fighter squadrons based at Naval air stations west of the Mississippi River were assembled for two weeks of intensified training.

During this two-week period simulated war maneuvers were carried out to test and develop rapid mobilization procedures in the Marine Air Reserve and prepare units for full combat stature.

Small Dehydrator In Fair Exhibit

How to save many crops periled by excess moisture and mold will be demonstrated at the California State Fair, September 2 through 12, when a portable dehydrator will be on display in Machinery Park adjoining the Industrial and Machinery Building, it was announced recently by Ned Green, secretary-manager.

The dehydrator, mounted on wheels, may be pulled by tractor about the farm and when crops are periled by heavy rains and the resulting mold, they may be processed through the huge machine which drys the leaves under intense heat.

Alfalfa, cereal grasses, soyaben vines, tomato waste, cotton-seed, Rami grass leaves, brewer's and distiller's grains, and citrus fruit peel are among important products which may be salvaged. Crop losses, which have averaged as high as 50 per cent because of excess moisture. can now be substantially decreased.

As in dehydrated fruits and vegetables for human consumption, feed for livestock, after being dehydrated, holds a high protein and vitamin content, Green said.

County's Cowboys Will Compete In Traditional Roping Events

Top cowboys of this county will compete this year in the Jack Pot Roping at the Santa Clara County Fair, September 13 to 19. Always a major attraction at the fair, the roping events are open this year only to residents of Santa Clara County.

Opening night for the Jack Pot roping will be Friday, September 17, at 8 p.m. Events will be continued on Saturday at the same time. Those who wish to participate in this attraction may make entries through Saturday afternoon prior to the finals. There will be prizes for single and team pot roping.

The future junior horse show champion of America might be among the entrants at the Junior Horseshow at the fairgrounds on Saturday, September 18 at 1 p.m. Vice-chairman Francis E. Zingheim has announced that the Junior Regional Champion Horse Show will be held at the Santa Clara County Fair this year.

The winner of this region will go to Santa Rosa in the autumn to compete for the championship of California. From there the winner will go to Madison Square Gardens in New York with other State winners to compete for the U. S. title.

Over $1500 in prize money will be given away in the horse show, said Zingheim.

The Senior Horse Show will be held on Sunday, September 19 at ':30. Zingheim is expecting a large turnout and promises a spectacular show.

Russell E. Pettit, manager of the Santa Clara County Fair, spoke before members of the Morgan Hill Lion's club recently and received their promise to sponsor the purchase of an animal in the Junior Livestock Auction at the fair, September 18.

"With this spirit and interest the Future Farmers and 4-H club youngsters will be encouraged to continue in such livestock projects that are entered each year in the fair," said Pettit. "Now we'd like to see some of the other 28 service clubs in the Santa Clara County agree to sponsor a purchase of some small animal."

Already 230 members of the two junior organizations have entered in the fair. Of those, 168 are livestock and 63 in other divisions.

"We'll have one of the largest shows in this state's history," said Chairman Bernard J. Cline, "if entries continue in at the present rate."

"An Ounce of Loyalty Is Worth a Pound of Brains"

TO ELBERT HUBBARD, the sage of East Aurora, New York, goes the credit for the thought-provoking moral in the heading you have just read. Home-spun philosopher, proprietor of a country printing shop, essayist nonpareil, Hubbard will long be remembered for his short witticisms and his treatise on carrying the message to Garcia. Just at the turn of the century, the man who spurned fortunes to remain true to his ideals, caught in a flash through casual conversation with his son the import of the story of Rowan and his message to Garcia. His writing of the article under that title has since become world famous and has been published through millions of pamphlets in every tongue. The quality of LOYALTY was almost an obsession with Elbert Hubbard. And that fact made him, though he never sought fame, one of the most outstanding Americans of all time.

THE SAME OPPORTUNITIES exist today, all around us, to exhibit the virtue of loyalty. The ability to be steadfast and loyal to our friends, acquaintances and business associates is latent within each of us. To put into practice the simple, time-old axioms of loyalty, faith and justice sometimes seems difficult or unnecessary. But how much better the world would be if we would make that little extra effort to show our loyalty in all our waking acts. To most of us, when we think of the term, we are inclined to review the fact that we are "good citizens;" we did this or that in the war; we vote for the person or thing we believe in; we don't scheme up acts to deliberately hurt our neighbors. But there it ends.

LOYALTY BEGINS and ends at home. Right here under our noses in our own community. The town we live in owes us nothing. Our country owes us nothing. Our life owes us nothing. We are the ones in debt. We are indebted to our own community for the very fact that it is a healthy, alive, vital community in which our life is irrevocably entwined. It doesn't matter whether it's Jonesville, Joplin or Paducah or Campbell. It's where you live, and move, and have your being that your loyalty should be. Praise the powers that be that you happen to live in or near Campbell. The air you breathe, the soil you walk upon is something out of the ordinary. Appreciate it, praise it and be LOYAL to it.

Sheriff, Assessor Offices To Be Removed From Political Sphere in New Charter

County Charter Previewed: A preview of proposed provisions in the County Charter they will file September 7 was presented by the Board of Freeholders to a well-attended public meeting in the Court House August 25.

Policy-making offices—the District Attorney and Assessor — would continue to be elective, along with the Justices of the Peace, whose reorganization is left up to studies now being made by the state legislature, and the Superintendent of Schools, who, to a large extent operates independently of county government under state law.

Chiefs of purely administrative offices would be appointed by the County Executive. hese the freeholders list as the Clerk, Recorder, Engineer, Controller-Auditor, Tax Collector, Treasurer, Coroner-Public Administrator, Purchasing Agent, Director of Health, Director of Welfare, and Sheriff.

Chief points of discussion concerned the Assessor and the Sheriff, and may be summarized as follows:

Elective Assessor

The freeholders grant that this is a highly technical office, and that in general technical competence is better enlisted by appointment than by political election.

However, in a county half agricultural and half industrial there is constant pressure on the Assessor to favor this or that group in determining the tax-base as against the other.

As Freeholder Aaron Richards expressed it: "We felt that such tremendous pressures on the Assessor would be more diffused if he were chosen by the vote of all electors of the county."

It was also pointed out that assessment policies determined by the Assessor are subject to review of the Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization. It was felt that a fairer determination of the assessment load would be possible between the Supervisors and an independent Assessor than if he were appointed by the County Executive, who is in turn appointed by the Supervisors.

It was also pointed out that no County Assessor in California is at the present time appointed.

Appointive Sheriff

Here the Freeholders tread on a new ground. No other California county has an appointive Sheriff.

However, the Freeholders note that California cities are operating effectively with appointive chiefs of police; that there is greater chance of cooperation between chiefs and Sheriff where both are technically trained men; that law enforcement in this more complicated day is more and more a science, requiring professional training and technical competence; that the Sheriff makes no policy except to follow the laws he is called upon to enforce, and that as an appointive officer there would be less temptation to favor groups which could assist him in a forthcoming election.

Charter Is Fluid

The Freeholders wisely pointed out that the Charter they are preparing is no cure-all for the growing pains Santa Clara County government is undergoing. Chairman Fred A. Wickett emphasized that the board thinks of the home-rule constitution simply as providing a more improved structure of government; that how well that structure is used depends upon the type of men who work within it.

They put their faith in a good civil service and the appointment of a trained Executive, able to measure up to the administrative opportunity given him, and note that the Supervisors have informally agreed to make no appointment until the Charter is passed upon by the voters November 2.

wood timber charred in its wake.

High temperatures that have kept the timber unusually dry and the rugged terrain through which the fire is raging were chief problems of the fire-fighters.

Volunteers from Santa Cruz and neighboring towns and counties are assisting fire companies from the surrounding area.

As late as 11:30 the flames were expected to skirt the park where thousands of west coast families spend their holidays. The nearest danger spot reported then was five miles from the camp area. Carpenter's Mill was in direct line of the fire and was reported burning just before noontime.

wall-paper business. With the exception of the owner of the paint store, the tenants are new to Campbell. Yet they were alert to the growing possibilities of the community. The paint and wall-paper store is owned and operated by Ben Strong, long favored by Campbellites for his decorating abilities. Paul Grannis and his wife, recently come to our town, are building a name for themselves in the furniture business here.

At the other end of Campbell avenue, adjacent to Hubert's new furniture store, also a new Campbell business, is an ice cream manufacturing firm. Unique to this section, the owners of this business are confident in the business growth of the town. Ordinarily ice cream manufacturing is confined to larger centers and distributed by sales trucks. Not so with this enterprise. They're going to make the delicacy right in their front window for all to see and they'll sell it right there and then.

In the same building the T N T Variety store is getting ready to open their doors with a line of school supplies, notions and candies. This new business is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Solari, Campbell residents for some time. Mr. Solari was formerly with the Bank of America in San Jose and Santa Clara.

Other business structures are either under way, or contemplated for our town, and shortly they will be reported on.

tures of the trip were shown and enthusiastically received. Boys making the long journey into the northland were: Frank and Bill Shepard, Harry Pankosky, Dudley erschbach, Richard Sisemore, Eddie Roseborough, Bobbie Sunseri, Clarence Hill and Harold Toy. The boys earned the necessary $400 required for the trip by working at odd jobs. They were under the supervision of Bob Herschbach. who gave them invaluable aid in the preparations for the trip and through his counsel on the journey.

Decorations, gaily festooned the hall and tables. The artistic effect was created by Ellen Lanphear, "Skipper" Benson and Mrs. Helen Jewel. Dinner was prepared and served by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Surprises are in store for members at their next meeting. The next Ladies Night is to be held on the last Tuesday in September. It is planned to have Miss Rose Reznick, blind pianist as special guest.

Post meetings of the Explorer Scouts are held every Monday night at the home of Robert Herschbach on Rincon avenue. Interested people are invited to attend.

Rev. C. E. Olds

dising. Most of Rev. Olds' work has been done in Maine.

The Olds have two sons and a daughter. Ensign Anson Olds, recent graduate of Annapolis, is serving aboard a navy flagship in the Near East. Another son, James, will complete an enlistment in the Marine Corps Friday, Sept. 3, and will enter Louisiana State University as a freshman this fall. Mrs. J. Carter, their daughter, lives in Eugene, Oregon.

Rev. and Mrs. Olds will make their home at the newly-purchased parsonage, 150 N. Second street, Campbell.

units of the district blood bank in order to meet demands of critically ill persons from this area.

Post-operation shock, motor accidents and child birth are three obvious kind of cases where blood transfusion is cutting the death rate sharply, WHEN BLOOD OF THE RIGHT TYPE IS AVAILABLE.

There are many others, including public disaster, for which the hard-working staff of the blood bank, need a good many more donors than before.

Blood tests and a physical check-up are given free at the time of donation—as well as coffee and donuts. Turn-downs are few. Most able-bodied adults are able to give without ill effects. When donors have to be refused, they are referred back to their own doctors with recommendations that sometimes prove life-saving in themselves.

Blood-bank stocks of our hospitals are running woefully near the danger-line.

So the Campbell chapter of the Red Cross is putting it squarely up to the men—from 4:30-7:30 p.m. Sept. 22.
